

PRIVATE EQUITY FIRM QUICK GUIDE

Investment capital shouldn't be wasted on depreciating assets

As a private equity firm, wouldn't you rather see your investment used to prioritize growth—and accelerate your ROI?

The challenge: Equipment and technology purchases are depleting their equity

For many private equity-backed organizations, a multi-million-dollar investment in equipment and technology is a hurdle, especially when other high ROI activities, such as hiring or marketing, are competing and equally vital priorities.

Sometimes you simply can't give your portfolio clients another dollar, but you can still support their funding needs by introducing them to equipment leasing.

The solution: Help your clients maximize every dollar you invest with equipment financing from CSC Leasing

For nearly four decades, CSC has been enabling growing companies to obtain equipment and technology, increase access to working capital, and remove the financial barriers that limit growth.

Our non-dilutive leases work in harmony with equity and bank funding, ensuring the preservation and optimization of your client's working capital. Here's how organizations are benefiting from a partnership with CSC:
